CallPilot Online/Offline Help on the Helmsman CD

The CallPilot Release 4.0 Helmsman CD includes standalone versions of the CallPilot help files built into Release 4.0 CallPilot systems.

The help files are compressed into a self-extracting zip file located at the root level of the Helmsman CD.

To install CallPilot Online/Offline help on your workstation:

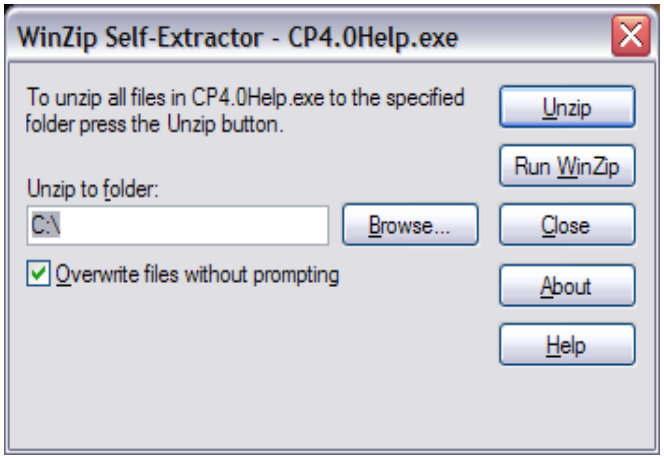

1 Insert the Helmsman CD into the CD drive of your workstation.

2 Use Windows explorer to open the CD drive volume.

3 Locate the file named "CP4.0Help.EXE" at the root level of the CD volume.

4 Double-click the file "CP4.0Help.EXE" to launch the installation.

Result: A WinZip Self-Extractor window appears.

5 In the "Unzip to folder" window, enter the destination folder where you want the files to be installed.

6 Click the Unzip button to continue.

Result: A folder “CP4.0Help” is created automatically which contains the “CP4.0 Help START.pdf” file and all other necessary files. A status window appears depicting which files are being extracted. When completed, a summary window appears indicating the total number of files unzipped.

7 Click OK to close the summary window.

8 Click Close to exit the WinZip window.

To launch Online/Offline Help:

1 From the Explorer window, navigate to the folder where you installed the help files. This folder contains a sub-folder entitled “CP4.0Help”.

2 Open this sub-folder and double-click the “CP4.0 Help START.pdf” file to launch the menu.

3 Select the help topic of interest by clicking on the appropriate title. The associated help file will be displayed either within a Browser or WinHelp window.

Note: For the first item selected, Adobe Acrobat may display a dialog box indicating that it is about to launch the appropriate application to view the files. To proceed:

- Select “OPEN” to allow this action.
- Check “Do not show this message again” to allow all future functions.
